

COCKTAILS

Experience Covent Garden's rich 500-year history, as we take you on a journey through time with a drink in hand. Uncover the secrets of London's very first fruit-and-vegetable market with our hand-crafted cocktails, infused with a botanical range of fruit, vegetable, flower and savoury aperitifs.

FRUIT GARDEN

Covent Garden dates back to the 1200's when the space consisted of the fields of Westminster Abbey. It was often referred to as 'the garden of the abbey and convent' from where it gets its name, Covent Garden.

AROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHT GIN & TONICS

Did you know there are 5,498 different types of gin in the world?

That's right, it's not just your usual London Dry or Sloe gin. Although the UK is still the leader in gin production, countries like Spain and the US are catching up quickly.

At The Gin Palace, we've curated a list of the finest 60 gins from all around the globe for you to sample. Whether you prefer it neat or in a fancy cocktail, our expert mixologists have got you covered.

Sapling Climate Positive Gin (England) £15

Franklin & Sons Mallorcan tonic water, served with rosemary and orange

This London dry gin is made with organic regenerative wheat from Wildfarmed, they use farming methods that allow the land to absorb CO2 and restore it to a natural carbon sink. The Sapling team also plant a tree for each bottle sold.

Amazzoni Gin (Brazil) £15

Franklin & Sons Elderflower and Cucumber tonic water served with bay leaf and pink peppercorn

Elephant Gin (Germany) £15

Franklin & Sons Indian tonic water, served with ginger and apple

Elephant Gin was born after the founders took on adventures across Kenya, Tanzania and South Africa. 15% of all bottle profits go to Elephant conservation projects to help support the inspirational wildlife which inspired them to create Elephant Gin.
